

Inspiration is the Leader in Canadian Educational Franchising

Last weekend we had the sincere pleasure of meeting with hundreds of prospective business owners, people and families looking to build their equity through positive community involvement. Standing on the right side of the entrance, we greeted guests as they discussed their dreams and aspirations, many of whom were looking to acquire their first independent business, after working for years as an employee. Somewhere teachers and others came from other industries, all of whom were interested in becoming their own boss and charting their own destiny.

Inspiration Learning Center is unique and offers our stakeholders something real and attainable. After serving Canadians for 21 years, we have learned what works and what doesn't and what families are looking for in terms of educational support for their children. Far from being "just a tutoring centre", we offer multiple routes to academic success, each providing value (and revenue) to our partners, allowing them to grow alongside our tutors and other people integrated into our system. Some were amazed by the feats we have accomplished, like our Elite Harvard Mentorship program which connects aspiring Ivy League students with the chance to be guided by current Harvard and MIT students. This is like the "cherry on top" after years of progress in our expert learning format, which combines both Eastern and Western methodologies.

Did you know that we are accredited by the Ministry of Education? Here in Ontario, we are authorised to issue high school credits and OSSD diplomas, allowing students to take either part of their secondary school curriculum in house or the entire program. This is great in boosting grades since they work one-on-one (or in small groups), affording them maximum student-teacher interaction. Rather than jumping ahead without covering all of the bases, our students can spend more time on problem areas and have their important questions answered. As a further business opportunity, our franchisees are able to offer "letters of admissions", giving them standing and merit when securing their student visa. This is all overseen by our expert educational consulting program, which caters to them as an individual unit, something unheard of in larger settings.

Many of our new friends have opted for our brand presentation, some at our Markham HQ and some online. This allows people to connect with us no matter where they are, bringing the possibility of expansion beyond our current GTA and Vancouver markets. It takes about an hour or so and gives you every chance to learn about our history, value proposition, learning methodology, financial requirements as well as prospective income. Laid out in easy to understand terms, we want to invite community members to learn about what makes Inspiration unique and what is expected of those who want to open up their own campus.

While we are well posited in many competitive markets, we have immediate openings in mandates such as Brampton, Mississauga, Downtown Calgary and others. We offer a chance to excellence, allowing those with barriers to meet their academic dreams. The small formats allow for the teachers to understand their students in such a way that the previous barriers are no longer a hindrance to getting their grades up, graduation and placement in an elite private school or university.

We would love to hear from you!

Our team would love to discuss what we are doing for 2024, adding exciting new programs and expanding our reach!
